

Damasec Environmental Policy

A healthy environment provides the solid foundation needed for a thriving society and a strong economy. To that end, Damasec is committed to ensuring that our business practices and products reflect our corporate values of pollution prevention and minimizing environmental hazards while fostering environmental stewardship.

Our employees are well versed in the benefit of recycling, energy conservation and the use of green products. They all take environmental stewardship seriously and are continuously looking for ways to improve their performance. Our management team regularly reviews government and customer requirements and disseminates this information throughout the entire organization ensuring compliance.

This policy represents a recognized level of environmental responsibility and provides customers with the added confidence in their decision to partner up with Damasec.
